

34th Environmental, Health & Safety Conference

October 4 - 6, 2022 | Milwaukee, WI

Foundries grow safer and greener every day, thanks to new technologies and the expertise of EHS professionals. So how do you ensure your facility is at the forefront of these advances? Join us at the AFS Environmental, Health, and Safety Conference, the metalcasting industry's leading EHS event for over three decades.

At the 34th EHS Conference, you'll get the latest in information-sharing, with insights from EHS experts who lead the way in foundry safety and environmental advancements. This conference features speakers presenting innovative research, vendors highlighting cutting-edge products, and foundry members-only sessions where you can find answers to your most pressing EHS questions.

AFS is looking for exhibitors and sponsors to show off their latest EHS innovations, products, and services and to show support for AFS.

Exhibits

Exhibitors will be given a six foot black skirted table and two chairs. Wifi and electricity is included. Fifteen exhibits are available and exhibits are on a first come, first served basis. Exhibits cost $1,510 and come with one registration for the conference. Additional exhibitor registrations are $375 per person. Exhibitors will also be apart of a bingo game and will be given a unique stamp to use on attendees bingo cards. The bingo cards will be used for a prize raffle.

Sponsorships

Sponsors will be included in pre-event marketing online, on our website, and in our communications. Sponsor logos will be formally recognized during the event, during presentations, and on-site on posters. AFS will also distribute a list of conference participant names and contact information to each sponsoring company. Sponsorships are $750.
